Optimize processes through HCLTech's integration framework

Use iterative deployment model and implement the 'Agile' approach

Introduction

HCLTech's integration framework is a global template-based Warehouse Management System (WMS) implementation and roll-out model to ensure optimal business benefits. It provides base solution which has common functionality across sites and iterative deployment method with parallel activities. It also has pre-configured templates for faster roll outs.
About the solution

This model strives to commoditize and reproduce WMS design and development components using an 'Agile' implementation approach by bringing together a set of structured processes, pre-built templates, test automation scripts, data migration specifications, frameworks, and solution accelerators.
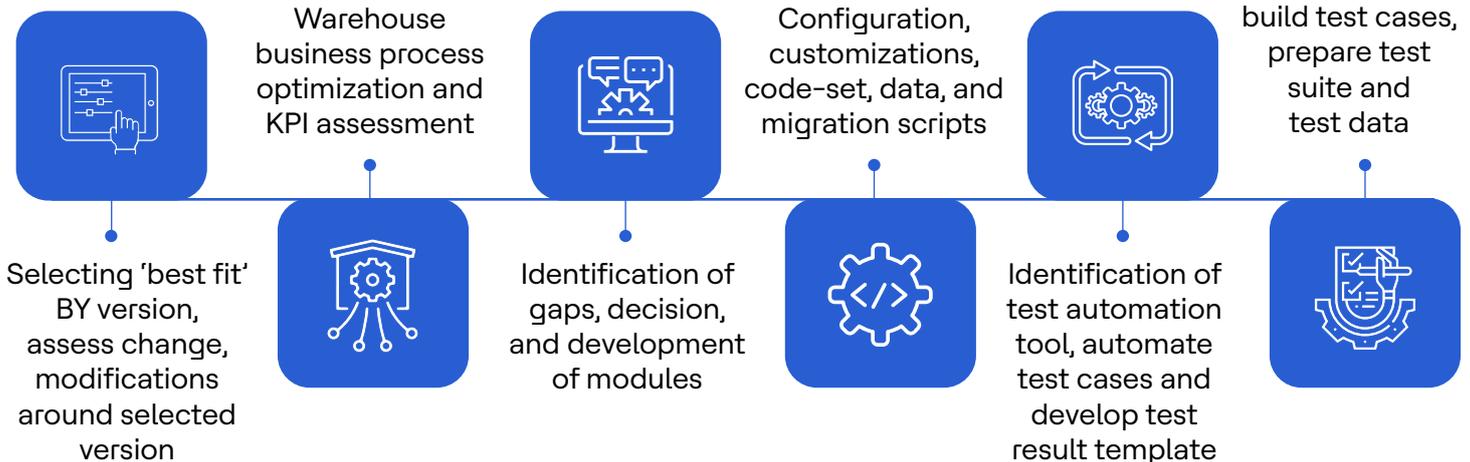

Lesser rework during local implementation

Quicker implementation/rollouts

Solution highlights

Selecting 'best fit' BY version, assess change, modifications around selected version

Warehouse business process optimization and KPI assessment

Identification of gaps, decision, and development of modules

Configuration, customizations, code-set, data, and migration scripts

Identification of test automation tool, automate test cases and develop test result template

Identification of test scenarios, build test cases, prepare test suite and test data

Business Impact

⏱	~20% - 25% reduction in on boarding time having rub-off effects on workforce productivity
⏱	Faster onboarding of warehouses (~3/4 years)
🔁	Reusable templates with streamlined warehouse business processes across (consistent across DCs)
💼	Successful rollout across multiple DCs over the global (25+ sites) ensuring business continuity
🤲	Reduces project timeline
⚙	Early realization
⚙	Process standardization
