Driving Transformation at Scale

Closing the gap between technology and business, delivering on digital transformation

A digital world is still a world with people at its center. To succeed in digital transformation in such a digital world, businesses must focus on both technology and the people who will interact with it as part of its digital strategy. HCLTech's Digital Consulting practice brings together decades of deep solutions-based technology expertise with best in class digital consulting services that are global, outcome based, and people-focused. To drive both new-age digital transformation consulting and increased revenue, and to do it all at scale. We work as a partner alongside our clients to align technology needs with business goals — from strategy to execution and overall digital transformation strategy.

The challenges we help our clients solve

The challenges businesses face in a digital world are complex — driven by industry shifts, technology, organizational demands for costs savings and efficiency, customer and employee experience improvements. And it's all further compounded by a global pandemic that has fundamentally changed how people live, work, and do businesses. HCLTech's Digital Consulting is experienced in industry, business, and technology needs and has the agility to pivot with market demands as part of a holistic digital strategy.

"I have a digital technology strategy. Now I need to prepare my organization to operationalize it"

"We need to reduce labor costs, better deliver against our KPIs, and empower our leaders with data-driven decision-making."

Outdated and disparate business processes are getting in our way. We need to streamline our processes to help us maximize on value."

"Speed to market and designing solution that can be agile to flex with changing business and market needs will be more successful than long multi-year design and deployment plans"

"Our customers are going to want online, no-touch, digital options for our [products/service]. We need to quickly figure out how to transition to this new reality."

"We need an org structure that will scale for growth, and we need an adaptive culture that can navigate change and expect disruption."

"Employee engagement is down and we need them to get behind an organizational customer experience strategy. How can we provide our employees a better experience so they can rally around our customers?"

Key Solutions Highlights A suite of services designed for digital transformation success

Our services are designed to be accessible – to be engaged individually or end-to-end, based on what the business or the market challenge demands. HCLTech’s approach to digital transformation consulting is built on a legacy of global technology experience. We understand the importance (and urgency) of giving a voice to technology early and often to deliver solutions that are both successful at the onset and scalable in the long term.

Our digital consultants bring a passion for future thinking alongside practical business savvy. We thrive on challenges that demand complex thinking and a focus on people and process. We are client partners and technologists, strategists and pragmatists, goal setters and customer-minded thinkers. We are HCLTech Digital Consulting.
